Has the construction project been substantially completed except for non-code finishing details which can be completed within 30 days; and (2) Occupancy does not constitute a danger to the health, safety, and welfare of the community?	<input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No

All Permits associated with this project must be paid prior to issuance of TCO.

If occupancy of a property occurs without the issuance of a certificate of occupancy, no new building permit will be issued to the general contractor at any location within the city until all final inspections have been successfully obtained and the certificate of occupancy has been issued for such property.

All Erosion and soil control measures must remain, if necessary, until property is properly stabilized with sod.
